

Hyperautomation Solutions... Not Just A Platform

Home Care Referral Automation to Increase

Referral Acceptance Capabilities

In-home care referrals involve matching people who need care with the right agencies. For this to work, home care agencies need to build connections with professionals and organizations that can recommend their services. Identifying the best referral sources that fit each facility's needs is key to ensuring successful matches.

> According to the Forcura and Home Healthcare survey report, the leading sources of referrals for home care agencies are:

> > Through which of the following channels does your organization receive referrals? (Select all that apply)

Importance of Referral for Home Care

Referrals serves as a critical link between home care agencies and potential clients, ensuring that everyone in need receives the appropriate services. The reasons that referrals are essential for home care:

Primary source of acquiring clients	Cost effective market strategy for client acquisition	Contribute to a strong reputation for home care agencies
-------------------------------------	---	--

Importance of Referral for Home Care

How can AI and Automation Help in Increasing Referral Acceptance?

Instead of processing them manually, an AI powered referral management help home care agencies by automating tasks like with referral intake, eligibility checks, referral triage and assessment, and episode creation. Let's see how it work-

Automated Matching

Al algorithms can –

» Match patients with the most suitable caregivers based on needs, location, and skills

How Does AutomaitonEdge's CareFlo Referral Bot Help?

AutomationEdge CareFlo Referral Bot is ready to use an automation solution to automate the steps involved in the referral process. It can-

Get details from referral portals, faxes & emails	Check eligibility to serve	Update status in referral portal	Onboard client in EMR
---	-------------------------------	----------------------------------	--------------------------

Why choose AutomationEdge CareFlo Home Care?

AutomationEdge CareFlo offers a different approach: a set of pre-built AI and automation solutions specifically designed for home care to automate repetitive tasks and workflow to improve overall home care experience. Key benefits of CareFlo include-

Ready-to-use solution

Customisable to your needs

Elimination solution building time

Easy integration with every business applicatrions

Request A Demo